

One of the most important techniques in proving the algebraic independence of the values of Mahler functions is to reduce the values of a Mahler function in question at several algebraic points to the values of appropriately constructed Mahler functions at a single algebraic point. In this talk I will explain this technique in the case of Mahler functions of a well-known type.